The igloos are back at this rooftop bar in the Seaport

Sip cocktails all winter long at this local hotspot. MATT JUUL

Winter isn't exactly the best season for drinking outdoors, but you can escape the chilly weather at this rooftop bar in Boston.

As the temperatures begin to dip, the Lookout Rooftop and Bar, located atop the Envoy Hotel, is once again home to a pop-up igloo bar. Visitors can sip on cocktails and take in a sweeping view of the Seaport, all while staying cozy inside one of six heated igloos.

According to the Lookout website, up to 10 people can sit inside one of the enclosures at a time, which are offered on a first come, first serve basis. Drinks can be ordered from inside an igloo via a special button, which causes the igloo to light up in order to notify a server to swing by.

Each person who gets to try out the igloo experience will also be provided with a fleece blanket to keep themselves warm.

Surprisingly the igloos, which debuted at Lookout last winter, are actually meant to serve as domes for gardening.

"The igloos are technically for gardening," Lookout's general manager Rob Saunders told Metro earlier this year. "We were trying to figure out ways to utilize the rooftop space, so we put some LED lights, a [space] heater and a ceiling light fixture into them."

There's still plenty of time to catch these rooftop igloos, as they'll be sticking around until April 16, 2018. Check them out for yourself Wednesdays through Saturdays, between 4 p.m. and 10 p.m.

If you go:

Through April 16, Wednesdays-Saturdays, 4-10 p.m., Lookout Rooftop and Bar, Envoy Hotel, 70 Sleeper St., outlookkitchenandbar.com/lookout-rooftop-and-bar

Wormtown is releasing a Dunkin' Donuts-flavored beer

DDark Roasted Brew makes its debut at the Worcester brewery. MATT JUUL

Dunkin' Donuts will be giving fans a different kind of buzz when its collaboration with Wormtown Brewery launches.

The Canton-based company is teaming up with the Worcester brewery for DDark Roasted Brew, a new coffee-flavored beer. Earlier this week, Wormtown officially announced that the limited release will be available at its taproom beginning Dec. 21.

In celebration of the new flavor, Wormtown is hosting a special party Thursday. The brews will begin pouring at exactly 11:28 a.m. that morning to coincide with the winter solstice.

Fans who attend the festivities will be able to pair the new beer with Dunkin' Donuts' double chocolate cake doughnuts, which will be available to munch on. According to the Facebook event's description, the first 100 guests who stop by will also receive "an exclusive swag bag full of Dunkin' Donuts and Wormtown Brewery goodies."

Wormtown calls DDark Roasted Brew a "decadent, stout-style beer" that utilizes "full-roasted coffee flavor" which creates "a creamy mouth feel." Hailed as the "first-ever beer brewed with Dunkin' Donuts' Dark Roast coffee beans," the new flavor is an exciting collaboration between the popular Bay State brands.

Prior to the announcement, Wormtown teased the beer in a series of social media posts.

"We've brewed up something new for all of you New Englanders," Wormtown posted on its Instagram account, accompanied by a photo of beer glasses filled with coffee beans.

If you do try the new brew, just remember that this is one Dunkin' Donuts beverage you shouldn't drink during your morning commute.

Myq Kaplan

Myq Kaplan, a 2010 finalist on "Last Comic Standing," has tucked two albums, a Netflix special and an ongoing podcast, "Hang Out with Me," under his belt since. His clever, deadpan stream-of-consciousness occasionally drifts into surreal territory, like his extended impersonation of a singing Catholic priest at Mass, asking himself why he's singing only two notes for so long.

Fair enough—you and your kids will still enjoy the world-class skating spectacle that's entertained Disney fans for over 35 years.

Local folk/pop duo Tall Heights expanded their sound grandly on their 2016 album, "Neptune," but it remains rooted in the basics of one cello, one guitar, two voices and panoramic, soul-bearing songwriting. Their most recent single, "Horse to Water," seeks the hope on the other side of angst, with a video much weirder than it has to be—but totally perfect for it.

With the exception of a few pop hits like George Michael's "Last Christmas" and Mariah Carey's "All I Want for Christmas is You," most of the most beloved Christmas music seems to date back to the jazz age. Tonight, the Compaq Big Band, a 20-piece ensemble, will prove it, performing arrangements from classics like Count Basie as well as contemporaries like Gordon Goodwin.

This show is exactly what it sounds like: Tchaikovsky's immortal Christmas ballet reborn in the image of hip-hop. One of the genre's earliest stars, Kurtis Blow, introduces the performance, which transposes the story to 1980s Brooklyn. Its 12 dazzling dancers display the adaptability of hip-hop styles even to stodgy old classical music, and it makes for an amusing and sorta mind-blowing combo.

Attorney General Maura Healey joined Boston Police Commissioner William Evans Wednesday to load the parcels into a van for return to Amazon. KATIE LANNAN/SHNS

Boston officials recover dozens of stolen Amazon packages

Attorney General Maura Healey said that her office is working to get the packages delivered to their rightful recipients by Christmas. KRISTIN TOUSSAINT

Boston law-enforcement officials have recovered dozens of stolen Amazon packages in the home of a part-time delivery driver and have returned them to the company so they can reach their intended locations by Christmas.

The stolen packages were discovered while police were involved in a separate investigation. Officers were searching the home of a suspect connected to a series of break-ins, according to Attorney General Maura Healey's office, when they found the packages.

Four people were arrested and arraigned this week in connection with break-ins at Wendy's restaurants in Quincy and Taunton, during which the suspects allegedly smashed cash boxes and ripped out safes.

It was during that investigation that police found the packages in one of the suspect's homes, Dharol Joyner, 33, of Boston. Officials believe Joyner stole the packages when he was working part-time as a delivery contractor.

The dozens of unopened Amazon boxes were addressed to customers throughout Greater Boston, Healey's office said in a statement.

"We're talking about dozens and dozens of packages," Healey told reporters on Wednesday. "We were surprised, I think, by the number of packages that we found, but as you can see it's everything from stereos, tools, grills, to an array of holiday items that were supposed to end up on people's doorsteps. Now, thanks to the good police work here, they will."

This investigation was a joint effort by the AG's office, Boston Police Department, Brookline Police Department, and the Massachusetts State Police.

Officials loaded a van with the packages to return them to Amazon so that they can be delivered by the weekend and make it to their rightful recipients by Christmas day.

CATHOLIC CHURCH

Cardinal Bernard Law, symbol of Catholic Church's sex-abuse crisis, dies

Cardinal Bernard Law, the former Archbishop of Boston who resigned in disgrace after covering up years of sexual abuse of children by priests and whose name became a byword for scandal in the Catholic Church, died Wednesday.

The Vatican announced his death in a one-line statement just before dawn.

It did not give a cause of death but sources close to Law, who died in a hospital in Rome, said he had been suffering from the complications of diabetes, liver failure and a build-up of fluids around the heart, known as pericardial effusion.

Law was Archbishop of Boston for 18 years when Pope John Paul — who in 1984 had appointed him to run one of the most prestigious and wealthy American archdioceses — reluctantly accepted his resignation Dec. 13, 2002, after a tumultuous year in church history.

A succession of news stories by Boston Globe reporters showed how priests who sexually abused children had been moved from parish to parish for years under Law's tenure without parishioners or law authorities being informed.

"No words can convey the pain these survivors and their loved ones suffered," said a statement from SNAP, a victims' group.

Law's resignation sent shockwaves through the American church and began a trickle-down effect around the world, as the cover-up techniques used in Boston were discovered to have been used in country after country.

Six months after his resignation, the Massachusetts attorney general's office announced that Law and others would not face criminal charges. REUTERS

How to survive the holidays with your family

Thanks to these tips, you just might make it through the holidays. NIKKI M. MASCALI

The holidays can be an especially stressful time of year because of all the family get-togethers and obligatory conversations taking place. ISTOCK

The holidays, as you may know, can be a war zone for many families, maybe now more than ever.

But fear not, dear reader: We're arming you with tools to defuse any situation — from avoiding politics as you eat your roast beast (or beets) to Mom and Dad bulldozing over your parenting skills — from Dr. Ish Major, marriage counselor on We TV's "Marriage Boot Camp: Reality Stars."

What are the biggest relationship issues you see this time of year?

Dr. Ish Major: It's the end of the year, so people are normally taking stock of the year, things that have gone wrong, the things that have gone right. It's a big time for family, so you think about folks who aren't there and those you want to be there for the next year. A lot of couples make big decisions about whether this'll be the last Christmas they're going to do together or not — it's a big deal and a stressful time.

Why do we always revert to being a bratty kid when we're home with the whole family?

It's a time warp. If you go home and your parents are still with you, the last version of you that you remember is when you walked out the door (when you moved out). You slip back into that because those are the roles we're used to and comfortable in. It's hard to hide who you are in family; you did that for the first 18 years of life, and it's hard to break out of that cycle when you're shoved back into it.

How can we deter political conversations someone with different views is hell-bent on having?

When those holiday hits start to roll around, it's can really ruin your day, but there's a very, very cordial way to handle that. Preface the conversation by saying, "You know what, we're probably not going to end up agreeing on this, so we can agree to disagree. I will hear you out if you agree to hear me out."

What's the best way to handle relatives trying to discipline your kids or pets in a way that's different than you?

You have to pregame this with your kids. You say, "Here's what I want you to do for the next two to three hours." If you've got to bribe them, do it, promise them something fun.

Once you get in there, grandfolks, older siblings with kids of their own are always going to tell you what to do. Say, "Listen, thank you, guys, but these are my kids. You've got to take a backseat."

How can we carve out alone or friend time without hurting feelings?

It's time management; you've got to prioritize. Some friends you may see at New Year's. Folks you rarely see, family, blood, you've got to put them at the top of the list, and balance that with your partner also.

But at the same time, it doesn't make sense to make yourself miserable, so if this is one of your least-favorite folks in the world, you don't have to put them at the top of the list.

Boston 'sleighs' with these epic holiday decorations

Metro scouted the most tricked-out holiday homes in town.

MORGAN ROUSSEAU

It's unlikely Santa and his reindeer will miss these festive holiday homes.

With Christmas next week, the frantic rush of holiday planning is enough to push anyone over the edge. So if you're in need of a winter pick-me-up, these holiday-light displays in Boston, Somerville, Chelsea and Saugus are sure to put a warm glow back in your heart.

Topping Metro's list of dazzling displays is a home at 166 Central St. in Somerville. There, residents Kathy and Leonard Rigione and Santa (aka Ray Parsons) beam with pride over their illuminated abode.

A decked-out home at 93 Newton St. in Somerville is a close second. Homeowner Nilda Pereira gushed over her family's annual decorating tradition, which goes back 33 years. Pereira said she handles the interior decor, while her husband, Joe, and brother Robert Mello tackle the exterior.

"Inside, it's me. Outside, it's the guys," she said.

But how could we forget the holiday light boat at Community Boating on the Esplanade? This week, the small sailboat cast a vibrant red and green glow on the water, but last year, strong winds capsized and partially sank the vessel. It's kept on the dock during the holidays and in front of the building, unlit, during the summer.

New Arthritis Painkiller Works on Contact and Numbs the Pain in Minutes

New cream works faster and is more targeted than oral medications. Key ingredients penetrate the skin within minutes to relieve joint arthritis pain. Users report significant immediate relief.

By Robert Ward
Associated Health Press

BOSTON – Innovus Pharmaceuticals has introduced a new arthritis pain relief treatment that works in minutes.

When applied to an arthritic joint, or a painful area on the body, it delivers immediate relief that lasts for hours and hours.

The powerful painkilling effect is created by the creams active ingredient, a special medical compound.

Anesthetics are used in hospitals during surgery. They block nerve signals from the brain so that patients don't feel pain and they work fast.

The anesthetic found in Apeaz™ is the strongest available without a prescription.

The cream form allows users to directly target their area of pain. It works where it is applied. The company says this is why the product is so effective and fast acting.

"Users can expect to feel relief immediately after applying," explains Dr. Bassam Damaj, President of Innovus Pharmaceuticals.

"There will a pleasant warming sensation that is followed by a cool, soothing one. This is how you know that the active ingredients have reached the infected joint and tissue."

Works In Minutes

For arthritis suffers, Apeaz offers impressive advantages over traditional medications. The most obvious is how quickly it relieves discomfort.

The cream contains the maximum approved dose of a top anesthetic, which penetrates the skin in a matter of minutes to numb the area that's in pain. This relief lasts for several hours.

Additional ingredients in the cream help suppress inflammation around tissues and joints. Published pre-clinical studies have shown that the ingredients in Apeaz™ can also prevent further bone and cartilage destruction.

There are also no negative side effects from the oral medication. Apeaz™ delivers its ingredients through the skin. Oral medications are absorbed in the digestive tract. Overtime, the chemicals in pills can tear the delicate lining of the stomach, causing ulcers and bleeding.

When compared to other arthritis medications, Apeaz™ is a fraction of the cost. At less than $2 a day, the cream quickly is becoming a household name.

Those with terrible arthritis in their hands and fingers, love how easy Apeaz™ is to open. The jar fits in the palm of the hand, which makes it much easier to use.

Instant Pain Relief Without a Prescription

Many Apeaz™ users report significant improvements in daily aches and pain. Many more report increased flexibility and less stiffness. They are moving pain free for the first time in years, like Henry Esber, and early user of Apeaz™.

"I've tried more pills than I can count. I've also had a handful of cortisone shots. Nothing is as effective as this product. With Apeaz™, I get relief right away. I rub a little on my knees and some through my hands. It keeps the pain away. It also prevents the pain from getting really bad. It's completely changed my life."

How It Works

"Apeaz™ contains the highest, non-prescription dose of a medical compound that fights pain on contact. When applied to the skin it goes to work within minutes by penetrating right to the source of your pain, numbing the nerve endings."

Apeaz™: Quick Acting Pain and Arthritis Cream is Now Available Without a Prescription

"This is why Apeaz™ is so effective for people with arthritis. It reduces pain while adding an additional layer of joint protection," explains Damaj.

A New Way to Treat Pain

Although Dr. Damaj and his team say that their cream is the fastest and most effective way to relieve arthritis pain, they believe there is still a reason to take joint pills. The most effective are those which help to further strengthen and support the joints.

That's why every container of Apeaz™ comes with ArthriVarx™, a breakthrough pill that's taking on joint support in an entirely new way.

ArthriVarx™ works on your joints, making it the perfect companion to Apeaz™.

"ArthriVarx™ contains special compounds published to lubricate the joints and connective tissues that surrounds them. With daily use, they improve joint health and can give an extra cushion," explains Dr. Damaj.

"When combined with Apeaz™, it becomes the perfect system to tackle arthritis. While the anesthetic component of Apeaz™ is working on the outside, relieving pain on contact, ArthriVarx™ is working on the inside, adding cushioning to the joints"'

A Powerful Combination For Arthritis and Joint Pain

With daily use, Apeaz™ plus ArthriVarx™ helps users live a more vital, pain free life without any of the negative side effects or interactions associated with oral drugs.

By delivering fast, long-lasting, and targeted relief from joint pain and reducing inflammation and swelling that causes joint damage, Apeaz™ and ArthriVarx™ is the newest, most effective way to tackle your arthritis pain.

You can now enjoy an entirely new level of comfort that's both safe and affordable. It is also extremely effective, especially if nothing else has worked well for you.

How to Get Apeaz™ in Massachusetts

Fodor's Travel

Get all the tropical ambiance without the crowds in the Cook Islands. GETTY IMAGES

Salar de Tunupa, Bolivia

Why it's wonderful: Backpackers have been piling out onto the world's largest salt flats, el Salar de Tunupa for years. It's only now that this high-altitude corner of Bolivia is seeing an influx of hotels and tours.

Travelers normally arrive here at the end of three days of surreal landmarks, including the blood-orange Laguna Colorada where flamingos congregate, and the Dali-like rock formations that rise out of the desert. But the salt flats are the real stars, a surreal white landscape of crisp, unblemished hexagons of salt bookended by sky-skimming volcanoes.

When to go: The salt flats are at their most magical between February and March, when the rainy season transforms them into a vast mirror.

Armenia

Why it's wonderful: Armenia's rugged mountains and fertile valleys, full of ancient monasteries and traditional villages, are an eco-tourist's dream, and new hiking trails and apps are making it easier to explore the outdoors. Since a 6,000-year-old winery was discovered in Areni village in southern Armenia a decade ago, the area's winemaking has been experiencing a rebirth.

When to go: Spring and fall are best for outdoor exploration and festivals.

Cook Islands

Why it's wonderful: If you want overwater bungalows and overpriced everything, by all means, hit Tahiti or Bora Bora. But if you are looking to explore island life in the South Pacific, zip around Rarotonga, the largest of the Cook Islands, on a moped, or hop islands by boat. Visit Maori markets, hike the lush inlands, explore caves and lagoons.

When to go: The Cook Islands doesn't really experience a rainy season, but it can be slightly cooler from June to August.

Taipei

Why it's wonderful: It's been 30 years since Martial law ended in Taiwan, and since then, the country has begun to introduce itself to the world. Taipei is a city that honors tradition, as is evidenced by the temples that dot the urban landscape, but it also looks forward.

When to go: Fall is by far the most comfortable time to visit after the intense summer heat, and before the winter damp. It's also time to partake in a traditional Moon Festival outdoor barbecue.

Prince Edward Island, Canada

Why it's wonderful: Prince Edward Island is an irresistible combination of rolling green hills and excellent beaches and seascapes, with bountiful shellfish, a gentle pace and a lively music scene.

Find a white, golden, pink, or red-sand beach and swim in the warmest waters north of the Carolinas. Or, walk out to explore the seabed at low tide.

When to go: Summer is high season, although there's lots to do late spring to early fall and the weather can be fine.

Holiday events at New England ski resorts

Spend the holidays on the slopes this season. ERIC WILBUR

Don't miss out on all the holiday events at ski resorts around New England. ALL PHOTOS BY OKEMO

I was in Florida over the weekend, so it isn't as if I should entirely bemoan about missing out on the weather in the Northeast. But that knowledge didn't stop a local high school student, who coaches at Attitash Mountain Resort on the weekends, from informing me how I had missed out on the best pre-holiday weekend in recent memory.

While others shopped over the last full weekend before the Christmas rush, he skied the leftover powder that dropped up to two feet of snow last week in parts of New England, free from the crowded slopes to come during the school vacation crush which is only days away.

One of the biggest stretches on the resort calendar begins this weekend, with plenty of holiday cheer to go around, all at a slope near you.

There's an entire calendar of events planned at Sunday River Mountain Resort in Maine, beginning with a Christmas Eve worship service at Barker Lodge, fireworks and family dinner reservations available at the midmountain Peak Lodge. It's a family-filled affair at Vermont's Burke Mountain as well, with visits from Santa, holiday sledding, pizza parties, skiing, snowboarding and much more.

Things are more geared toward the adults though at Stratton Mountain Resorts' beer-pairing dinner with Zero Gravity Brewing on Saturday, featuring a four-course meal complemented by local beers from one of Burlington's best breweries (Only 50 tickets available, $50 per person, stratton.com). Grown-up skiers can also enjoy an après ski ugly sweater party at Bretton Woods this Saturday afternoon, all while the kids have their own shindig, the craft-filled Little Elves Toyshop Kid's Après Party (appropriate for ages 4-12).

Okemo Mountain Resort will have a host of family-friendly activities during the holidays.

Dozens of ski areas across the region also have New Year's Eve plans lines up. The lifts will be running until midnight at Wachusett Mountain, which will also have live entertainment in the Coppertop Lounge and fireworks at 10 p.m. The celebration at Okemo Mountain Resort is fit for the whole family as well, also including fireworks and an evening torch parade down the hill.

Cranmore Mountain Resort will host its event-filled Cranapalooza in North Conway, New Hamphsire, King Pine will have skiing and riding until 9 p.m. with a bonfire and torchlight parade, and Mount Snow Resort will welcome 2018 in style with a family-friendly nightclub-style event that includes hors d'oeuvre station, party favors and a champagne toast at midnight. ($45 for adults, $25 for children).

Be sure to check your favorite ski area or resort's calendar for a full listing of events.

Brady giving up on the 'Patriot Way'?

DANNY PICARD

OPINION

Listen to "The Danny Picard Show" at dannypicard.com. Follow him on Twitter @dannypicard

If you believe in the Patriot Way — which I do — then you have to side with Bill Belichick in the latest dramatic event to unfold down in Foxboro.

Tom Brady's personal trainer — Alex Guerrero — has been banned from the Patriots' sideline and the team plane. And we're still not entirely sure why.

I call him Brady's "trainer" because, well, that's what he is.

By now, you know about Guerrero's history. You know about his relationship with the Patriots' franchise quarterback. And you know that, whatever it is they're doing, it's working.

Brady is 40 years old. He leads the NFL with 4,163 pass yards this season and is most likely going to be crowned league MVP.

And now, Guerrero works with more than just Brady. He's also working with other Patriots players, including Rob Gronkowski.

All of that said, it's perfectly fine to side with Belichick for banning Guerrero, while at the same time, believing the relationship between Belichick and Brady is still strong.

This move by Belichick to put his foot down on Guerrero's presence with the Patriots has been, and will be, perceived as the straw that broke the camel's back. To some, it'll be the reason that the greatest tag team in NFL history split up and went separate ways.

Belichick is Shawn Michaels. Brady is Marty Jannetty. One Patriot Place is Brutus Beefcake's barber shop.

As Jannetty found out, broken glass is sharp. But those who'll use Guerrero's ban as a way to finally prove there's a major rift between Belichick and Brady will be the ones who'll ultimately get sliced by their own hopes and dreams.

They want Belichick and Brady to hate each other. They need that type of controversy in their lives. They pray that Brady has been blindsided and wants out of New England.

Drama is good for ratings. It gets retweets and helps gain followers. But both Belichick and Brady know it doesn't win Super Bowls.

So, allow me to introduce my theory, as to what happened with Belichick and Guerrero this season.

Belichick probably has never enjoyed Guerrero's company on the sideline or on the team plane. But he understands what Brady means to the Patriots. If he didn't value that, then Jimmy Garoppolo would not have been traded to San Francisco in October.

In fact, one part of this whole thing that's been overlooked is that Belichick will still allow Guerrero to work with Brady — and only Brady — in Guerrero's "exclusive office" near the team's locker room at Gillette Stadium. It makes me question the legitimacy of this "ban."

Just how much work does Guerrero actually do on the sideline during games anyways? And if he doesn't have a seat on the team plane, I'm willing to bet Guerrero has enough money to fly himself to wherever the Patriots are.

So, why the ban? And why now?

My theory is that other players began wanting their own personal trainers or advocates to have a presence with the team, to the point where it started becoming exactly what Belichick and Brady hate: a distraction.

It was time for Belichick to do something about it before things got out of hand. So he did the only thing he could do. He told Brady that Guerrero can no longer be on the sideline and that he can no longer fly with the team. But he also told him he can still be treated by Guerrero inside Gillette Stadium.

If it was all fire and brimstone in Foxboro, Guerrero would no longer have an office near the team's locker room.

Belichick is simply reinforcing his winning philosophy by squashing any potential drama in sight. And as much as some might use it to describe a strained relationship between coach and quarterback, it's hard to believe that Brady has suddenly stopped buying into the Patriot Way.

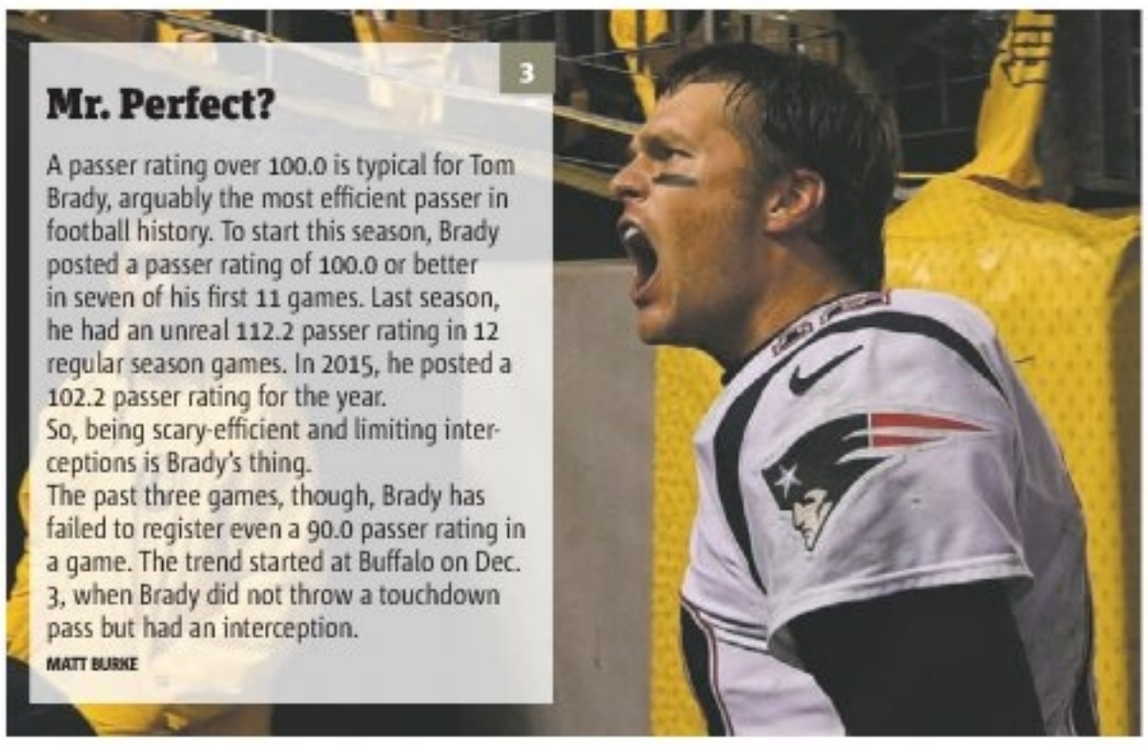
3 Things to watch for as Pats host Buffalo

1 Muck it up

The Patriots are going to have to win this one ugly as Buffalo's defense is playing great ball right now. Buffalo has given up just 14.0 points per game to their opponents in the past month. Expect the Bills to try and do what the Steelers did effectively last week, playing a ball-control game. By pounding the ball with LeSean McCoy, the Bills can keep the clock running and keep Tom Brady off the field. McCoy had 93 yards rushing against the Pats three weeks ago and followed that up with a 156-yard performance against the Colts the following week. Steelers back Le'Veon Bell killed the Pats last week with 117 yards rushing on 24 carries and he had five catches for 48 yards. Like Bell, McCoy excels in the passing game out of the backfield. The Pats did a good job bottling him up in their first meeting, limiting McCoy to just two catches for nine yards.

2 Reverse trend

Ben Roethlisberger and Jay Cutler have moved the ball up and down the field with ease against the Patriots defense the past few weeks. It's unlikely that Tyrod Taylor will have that type of success as he was abysmal in the game three weeks ago before getting injured. But Taylor did return this past Sunday to lead the Bills past the Dolphins, 24-16, to keep them alive in the AFC playoff hunt. The Pats defense had a great stretch going where they gave up 17 points or less in eight straight games. But in the past two weeks, the Pats have allowed an average of 25.5 points per game. The pressure will be on Stephon Gilmore and Malcolm Butler, in particular, to right the ship as both were torched by the Steelers at various points last week.



3 Mr. Perfect?

A passer rating over 100.0 is typical for Tom Brady, arguably the most efficient passer in football history. To start this season, Brady posted a passer rating of 100.0 or better in seven of his first 11 games. Last season, he had an unreal 112.2 passer rating in 12 regular season games. In 2015, he posted a 102.2 passer rating for the year.
So, being scary-efficient and limiting interceptions is Brady's thing.
The past three games, though, Brady has failed to register even a 90.0 passer rating in a game. The trend started at Buffalo on Dec. 3, when Brady did not throw a touchdown pass but had an interception.

Aries A personal change can be made. You'll feel good about the way you look and feel if you choose a healthy lifestyle and project self-confidence. Romance is highlighted.

Taurus You'll face opposition if you are physically, emotionally or financially excessive. Consider the consequences and show more discipline in the way you live, act and spend.

Gemini Don't take on responsibilities that don't belong to you. Too much of anything will leave you in a vulnerable position. Aim to please, but stay within your budget.

Cancer Don't be fooled by a smooth talker. When it comes to handling your money and personal affairs, you need to take charge. Use your imagination to find a workable solution.

Leo Take care of your responsibilities or someone will complain. You can have fun after you take care of business. A personal change will lead to compliments.

Virgo Keep your eye on the ball. Don't let emotions drag you off-course. It's important to search for truth and to make your decisions based on facts, not on assumptions.

Libra Taking on too much will make you anxious. You are best off finding a way to cut back. A realistic assessment will help you make fewer unrealistic promises.

Scorpio Don't let your emotions take control when dealing with friends. You may not agree with everyone, but diplomacy should be implemented in the spirit of the season.

Sagittarius Move things around at home to suit your current situation. Visitors or guests will appreciate your hospitality and want to return the favor in whatever way possible.

Capricorn Look at the possibilities that are within reach, and hone in on what it is you want to accomplish before the year comes to a close. Set realistic goals.

Aquarius Emotions will surface, making it difficult for you to make a decision. Don't let anger or remorse dictate how you deal with others. Do what's best for you.

Pisces A change of heart will disrupt your plans. Try not to show disappointment. If you carry on, you will be surprised by the outcome. EUGENIA LAST
